1.1 Introduction

University of Ruhuna was established on 1st September 1978, as Ruhuna University College by a Special Presidential Decree. Currently, University of Ruhuna constitutes with nine faculties, namely Agriculture, Engineering, Fisheries and Marine Sciences & Technology, Humanities and Social Sciences, Management and Finance, Medicine, Science, Technology and Graduate Studies.

Faculties of Humanities and Social Sciences, Fisheries and Marine Sciences & Technology, Management and Finance, Science and Graduate Studies are located at the main University premises at Wallamadama (Matara). Faculties of Agriculture, Engineering and Medicine are located in Mapalana (Kamburupitiya), Hapugala (Galle) and Karapitiya (Galle) respectively. The Faculty of Technology is temporary located at the Wellamadama premises until the construction of buildings at Kamburupitiya are completed. The central administration unit of the University is also located at the Wallamadama University complex.

The University offers Bachelor, Master and PhD degrees in their respective disciplines. In addition, Diploma and Certificate courses are conducted in various disciplines. At the first recruitment of the University of Ruhuna for the Bachelors degree programmes in 1978, a total of 272 students were enrolled and in the year 2015 it has been increased to 7244 students, across eight faculties (Table 1.1), recording its fast growth during the past four decades.

1.2 Location of the University

University of Ruhuna main campus is located 4 km away from Matara along the Colombo Hambantota (A2) main road. Matara (Sinhala: Tamil:[ ) (originally Mahathota) is a city on the Southern coast of Sri Lanka, 160 km from Colombo. Matara historically belongs to the area called Ruhuna, one of the three kingdoms in Sri Lanka. First Indians who arrived to the island country according to the Mahawansa settled in the area, along the banks of Nilwala River.

Traveling from Colombo to Matara can be made either by train or buses. There are only a limited number of trains but buses are available every half an hour through the normal route or expressway. The journey through normal route takes about four hours from Colombo while one and half hours through expressway. Matara is the last railway station where the railway lines end and the last exit of the expressway in the South.

2.3 General Information

In supporting the Government policy and the request made by UGC to introduce degree programmes for students, who are expecting to enter universities to follow Bachelors degrees in Technology, the Faculty of Science proposed to establish a Faculty of Technology, which was included in the Corporate Plan of the Faculty of Science and the University of Ruhuna in 2014. Faculty of Technology, proposed as the 9th faculty of the University of Ruhuna, was established under the gazette notification issued on 26th April 2016. The Faculty comprises of four departments; Department of Engineering Technology (ET), Department of Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Department of Biosystems Technology (BST) and Department of Multidisciplinary Studies (MS). It provides opportunity to obtain university education for A/L students in the technology stream, which was introduced as another pathway in the higher education system in Sri Lanka.

The mission of the Faculty is to produce professional technologists with accredited degrees to deliver the needs of the world of technology. The Faculty planned to offer three degree programmes, Bachelor of Engineering Technology (BET) and Bachelor of Information and Communication Technology (BICT) in the first year and Bachelor of Biosystems Technology (BBST) in the following year. Initially, the student intake would be 75, 50 and 50 for BET, BICT and BBST, respectively. However the total annual intake would be 200 when the faculty is fully operational after the completion of the construction of new buildings. The buildings for the Faculty and two hostels are under construction at the proposed site of about 76 acres at Karagoda Uyangoda in Kamburupitiya, which is close to the Faculty of Agriculture. The Faculty would cater 800 students at a time with hostel facilities for all students. Until the first phase of the building is completed the classes will be conducted at the premises of the Faculty of Science.

2.4 Broad Objective of the Faculty

One of the main problems in Sri Lanka is the shortage of professionals to face and handle technological advances that develop rapidly at the work place. Many institutes, hospitals and industries import modern equipment, with advanced technology in order to improve the quality of services and products, enhance the efficiency of procedures and production lines. Through the Industrial Training and Research Coordinating Centre of the Faculty of Science, staff visited industries in the area to find industrial training opportunities as well as research projects for students so that expert knowledge of the staff and contribution of students are used in solving some industry problems. During such visits and through discussions, lack of proper technological no-how in the industrial sector (especially in medium and small scale) had been brought to the attention. The country, at large, faces difficulty because of not having a trained work force to properly use technological advances for the development of industries in the country. Proper management of equipment is a well-known problem even in universities and research institutes in the country, mainly due to lack of professionals to train technical officers. The degree programmes under this faculty are designed to produce quality Technologists out of the students expected to enter universities through the Technology Stream, to fulfill such needs of the country.

The Technologists produced through this faculty, in the areas of Engineering Technology, Biosystems Technology and ICT would certainly fulfill the need of the country to bring new technology to industries. Furthermore, they would have the basic knowledge in management to work as professional Technologists. The courses are structured to provide relevant knowledge on essential technical subjects so that the graduates would be employable in various fields.

2.5 Objectives of the Degree Programme

2.5.1 Engineering Technology

Engineering Technology degrees are well-recognised around the world, which are designed to produce Technologists who would fit in between Engineers and Technical Officers professionally. The course is structured to provide the Electromechanical Engineering Technology knowledge applicable to many areas so that the graduate would have employable opportunities in various fields. Graduates with Technology degrees are internationally accredited according to Sydney accord, while Engineers are accredited according to Washington Accord and Technicians are accredited according to Dublin Accord. Furthermore, Institute of Engineers, Sri Lanka (IESL) has produced an Accreditation Manual for Engineering Technology Programmes outlining the criteria and procedures for accreditation, in parallel with the Sydney Accord. This degree programme is designed to produce internationally recognized Technologist in the area of Electromechanical Engineering Technology.

Main Objectives:

1. To offer a quality degree programme for students who enter the university through Advanced Level Engineering Technology stream.

2. To produce graduates qualified to be professional Electromechanical Engineering Technologists locally as well as internationally.

5. To produce Technologists with competent broad knowledge on electromechanical engineering technology in vast areas of applications.

6. To produce graduates qualified to teach in Engineering Technology streams in schools and in Technical Colleges and knowledge transfer to society.

The curriculum of this degree programme focusses on electromechanical instrumentations and process control, which incorporates elements of both electrical and mechanical engineering technology. The electrical component of the curricular includes course works on basic knowledge in electricity and magnetism, current electricity, analogy circuits, digital circuits, circuit analysis and faults diagnosis, electrical power systems, operation and maintenance of computer hardware and computer networking. The mechanical component of the curricular includes mechanical and engineering properties of matter, computer aided drafting, basic motor mechanics, hydraulic pumps, robotics, mechatronics and several workshop training course units. Integration of electrical and mechanical components takes place through several course units on applications. Relevant knowledge in Basic Science and Mathematics, ICT knowledge and basic management knowledge would be provided through relevant course units.

2.5.2 Information and Communication Technology

The proposed BICT degree programme has been focussed on Application Development, BICT (Application Development), which is one of the degree programme proposed by Computer Society of Sri Lanka under new ICT Degree Programme Accreditation Framework. The main objective is to produce quality application developers with relevant subject knowledge on application development principles and ICT principles and with relevant complementary subject knowledge, who could build professional carriers in the field of ICT.

The main objectives, expected graduate attributes and programme outcomes are given under following sections respectively.

Main Objectives:

1. Prepare graduates for positions in software development careers by providing industry-relevant applied education in application development.

2. Produce graduates with a broad knowledge on current industry trends including Web, cloud and mobile applications, as well as industry practices.

3.7 Selection of Course Units

There are several options for selection of course units. Available options will be announced at the commencement of the semester. The Course Unit pathways have been designed to ensure a significant degree of diversification within the degree programme. GPA Course Units are the compulsory units, which should be followed by all students in accordance with the streams selected. Non-GPA Course Units can be selected at the discretion of the student, according to the selection criteria prescribed by the Faculty/Department. English course units are not counted for GPA (called as Non-GPA), however, they will be counted for Semester GPV (SGPA) and has to fulfill the requirement for satisfactory completion of each semester.

3.7.1 Engineering Technology Stream

The first batch of students who opted to follow engineering technology stream subjects in schools have sat for the A/L examinations in 2015 and expected to enter universities in 2016. This document is providing the details of the degree programme, Bachelor of Engineering Technology, designed for students to be entered in 2016 under A/L Engineering Technology stream. The degree programme is designed focussing on Electromechanical Technology,to produce professional Technologists to suit the need of the country with the relevant knowledge in Electrical, Electronic and Mechanical systems and applications. Initially, the student intake for this degree programme would be 75 students selected under standard procedure of UGC according to the Z-score.

3.7.2 Information Communication Technology Stream

The first batch of students who opted to follow information communication technology stream subjects in schools have sat for the A/L examinations in 2015 and expected to enter universities in 2016. This degree programme is designed to fulfil the above need of the country on the request of Ministry of Higher Education and UGC. University of Ruhuna, has taken a decision to introduce this BICT degree programme, which is targeting the students who have selected the subjects, Science for Technology, Engineering Technology and ICT in A/L Engineering Technology stream

3.7.3 Multidisciplinary Subjects

It should be emphasized that multidisciplinary subject knowledge has to be provided for undergraduates to produce employable graduates in the present job market. Therefore, it is proposed to establish the Department of Multidisciplinary Studies.

The undergraduate programme in the Faculty of Technology comprises of a large number of course units offered by individual departments. In addition to the course units under the subject areas, several other course units from different disciplines (for example english, management, sports, personnel development etc.) are also available. These course units are offered by Department of Multidisciplinary Studies and the denotations of such course units are Complementary Course Units (Unit codes starting with TCS).These Multidisciplinary course units offered for all two suject streams.

Theory course units consist of lectures, assignments and tutorials. Combined course units consist of both theory and practical components. In addition, students are also given the opportunity to conduct research projects in an area/problem of his/her interest under a particular course unit.

3.8 Identification of Course Units

An alphanumeric code is used to identify a unit. The code consists of four digits prefixed by a set of three letters denoting the subject/Course Unit as described by the example given below:

4 Online Documentation of the Management Information System (MIS) of Faculty of Technology (TEC), University of Ruhuna - (TECMIS)

The TECMIS is meant to assist management of the information system of Faculty of Technology. Its present version has been designed after a careful assessment of the requirements of the users of the system. The users are Students, Dean, Senior Assistant Registrar, Heads of Departments, Lecturers, Academic Supportive Staff and Non-academic Staff.

Users of the TECMIS can perform various different tasks. Every user is assigned a user name and a password to log-in to the system. However, for security reasons all user accounts are created by the Dean of the Faculty of Technology. Students must change the given temporary password at the first time they login to the system.

All students must use TECMIS to register for course units and examinations. There are many facilities for students in TECMIS, such as, view own course units they registered, attendance of classes, eligibility for examinations, results/GPA and notices etc. Changes in registrations are allowed within the specified time limit at the beginning of the semester. All students must complete and update their personal information page.

1. Start Registration : The relevant time periods will be announced by the Dean's Office for students to register/drop course units.

2. Close the registration : The system will be closed for students after the given time period and student will not be allowed to register through the TECMIS after the closing dates.

3. Change of registration : After the closing date of registration, students are allowed to modify course units registered through the Dean's office within a given period, generally two weeks from the beginning of the Semester.

4. Confirmation: Registration for course units will be confirmed by the Deans office and the confirmation of each course unit can be seen in the system. This confirmation indicates that the registration is successful. If any course unit is not confirmed, the students are advised to contact SAR/Technology at the Deans Office.

4.2 Attendance of Classes

Students' attendance for course units they registered can be viewed. It contains daily attendance, number of medical submissions and current attendance percentage for the course units. A student must maintain an 80% attendance for classes in order to be eligible to sit for the examination of a course unit.

4.3 Registration for examinations

All students are advised to register for examinations before the dead line as the dates are announced by the Deans office. Students can register for examinations of registered course units only. A student who registered to repeat an examination should submit the relevant paying voucher to the Dean's Office to obtain the confirmation.

After the registration for examinations is completed the eligibility for each course unit, which depends on the percentage of attendance (80%), will be displayed in the system. It is the responsibility of the student to register for examinations and to maintain the required attendance.

4.4 Results of Examinations

The released results of course units will be posted on the system. The students can view the results of a given course unit or all results of past examinations after login to their accounts.

4.5 Notices

The notices relevant to students will be posted on TECMIS. It is the responsibility of students to see the notices and announcements .

Department of Information and Communication Technology

6 Department of Information Communication Technology

One of the main problems in Sri Lanka is the lack of sufficient IT professionals to cope up with the rapidly developing technological advances at the work place. Many institutes, hospitals and industries import equipment with advanced technology in order to improve the quality of their products and enhance the efficiency of their procedures and production lines. Most of these high tech equipments are computer controlled and some needs IT experts to operate and to modify relevant software. The Faculty of Science has established an Industrial Training and Research Coordinating Centre (ITRCC) in order to build collaborations with local industries. Through ITRCC, staff of the faculty has visited most of the industries in the area to find industrial training opportunities as well as research projects for students so that the expertise knowledge of the staff could be used to solve industrial problems. Through these visits and discussions, it has been found that some industries face severe difficulties because of the lack of IT experts. Furthermore, it has been noticed that some industries could have improved their efficiency if technological advances in IT had been deployed. It is well known that the University system still could not produce a sufficient number of graduates in the area of ICT to fulfil the demand in the country. This degree program is designed to address the above issue in the country by producing quality graduates in ICT. Furthermore, the graduates produced under this program would be given sufficient additional knowledge on complementary subjects and an industrial training to work as a professional ICT expert with leadership and management skills.

6.1 Expected Graduate Attributes

- Ability to use application development principles and languages for the development of realistic software systems.
- Skills to use different approaches/tools to software development and apply effective strategies to manage the process of developing, designing, testing, and delivering a software application.
- Ability to develop software components meeting the design specifications.
- Capability to communicate effectively on ICT activities with the workforce and with the society at large.
- Ability to critically thinking on technological development at workplace and aptitude to undertake lifelong learning.
- Aesthetic skills to support innovative and creative thinking in software development.
- Accounting and management skills to support business-oriented thinking of software development.
- Knowledgeable on ethical principles, professional ethics, responsibilities and norms of Technological practices to work in a team of software developers.

The Department has the following infrastructure facilities: one large elementary computer laboratory to cater up to 50 undergraduate students, one well equipped research laboratories, one lecture theater, a seminar room.

7 Department of Multidiscipilinary Studies

Graduates with Technology degrees are expected to be knowledgeable on complementary subjects in addition to the subject matter of the relevant area. For example, according to the accreditation guidelines of Sydney accords as well as IESL, Engineering Technology graduates are expected to complete about 18 credits of complementary subjects relevant to produce a professional Technologist. This is mainly due to the fact that having only the subject knowledge cannot produce a quality professional Technologist to perform well at the workplace. It is equally important to have relevant knowledge in subjects like Fundamentals of Management, Human Resource Management, Communication Skills, Ethics at work Place, Creativity, Invention and Innovation skills, Entrepreneurship etc. to be successful at work. The Department of Multidisciplinary studies is established in the Faculty of Technology to offer Course Units on Complementary Subjects to fulfill the expected graduate outcome and the graduate profile.

7.1 Expected Graduate Attributes

In order to achieve the graduate attributes of each degree programme listed above, the Department of Multidisciplinary studies offers Course Units on Complementary Subjects listed in Table 7.1 under each degree programme. The course codes of these Course Units begin with TCS. Relevant TCS units are offered at all levels, from Level I to Level IV.

TCS Course units shall be selected at the discretion of the student according to the selection criteria prescribed by the faculty.
